INTRODUCTION

This resource manual is intended for use by school counselors and administrators when dealing with an unexpected crisis on their campus. It is meant to facilitate the process of professional staff roles during a time of crisis.

During a crisis on a campus there may be some confusion and staff roles are unclear. Included are specific staff roles for principal, counselor and faculty. This resource provides invaluable information when dealing with an individual's reaction to a crisis.

We expect this manual to be very helpful during a time of need. It is also recommended that counselors, nurses and administrators work closely with a buddy system during a crisis. This will ease the stress on the individual in charge and will offer a great deal of support.

The following buddy system is suggested:

- 1. Buddy Counselor: a) A working partner who can accompany the counselor in charge of the case through the duration of the crisis. b) After the initial crisis is over a home visit may be helpful; however, it is not advisable that the counselor goes alone during this difficult time.
- 2. Buddy Schools: a) Schools that are in close proximity and will allow their professional staff to offer support. b) Buddy schools are also a good option since counselors from the feeder schools may already be familiar with the student and his/her family.

I wish to acknowledge the excellent work done by Jesse R. Trevino, Dawne Hill-Varlack, Emma Leal Avendano, Claudia Alonzo, Debra Navarro, Jessica De La Garza, Valerie Uresti-Rojas, Cynthia Mendez, Maricela Ponce, Mark Garza, Christopher Cantu and Ana Parra all of whom were instrumental in updating this resource manual to be used throughout the Mission CISD. These individuals worked in a cooperative effort to prepare this manual. They are greatly appreciated.

STAFF ROLES DURING A SUICIDE CRISIS

Mission Consolidated Independent School District Key Points to Remember During Crisis Situation

TAKE THE THREAT SERIOUSLY

INITIATE CRISIS INTERVENTION TEAM (Counselor, LPC, Administrator, Nurse, SRO)

DOCUMENT THE TIME CRISIS INTERVENTION WAS INITIATED AND WHICH CRISIS TEAM MEMBER WAS CONTACTED

DO NOT LEAVE THE STUDENT ALONE

SPEAK CALMLY TO THE STUDENT UNTIL THE SCREENER
ARRIVES

SCREENER WILL ASSESS CRISIS

WHEN POSSIBLE, STUDENT WILL BE ESCORTED TO A SAFE AND SECURE PLACE

STUDENT WILL SIGN "NO HARM AGREEMENT"/ SAFETY PLAN

CRISIS TEAM MEMBER WILL CONTACT PARENT(S) OR THE LEGAL GUARDIAN

Mission Consolidated Independent School District Goals and Procedures for Notifying Parents of Suicidal Ideation/Behavior

Parents must be notified; a conference at school is preferable to a telephone notification.

Two school staff members should be involved and if possible both parents, in collaborating on managing and minimizing student's suicidal ideation/behavior.

Parents should be informed of the severity of the situation and provided with suggestions to increase supervision, reduce the availability of lethal weapons, and ways to assist their child.

The student should be included in all or part of the conference.

Parents will be encouraged to sign a release of information form to facilitate communication.

School Counselor or LPC will provide parent information over MCIDS mental health counseling services available for all MCISD students.

Parents will be given information on community agencies that may provide support for mental health services or counseling if student and/or parent opt out of MCISD LPC services.

School Counselor and/or LPC will follow up with student/parent once he/she returns to school.

Parents are encouraged to keep the school informed about further professional treatment for their child outside of MCISD.

Parents who refuse to follow the school's recommendations will be informed that the child welfare agency will be notified. School personnel should not hesitate to call. A follow-up letter should be mailed to parents (Notification of Emergency Conference form page 30).

While on campus assistance should be provided to the student, no matter what the reaction of the parent(s), in accordance with local and state guidelines.

SUICIDE INTERVENTION PLAN

Mission Consolidated Independent School District Managing the Aftermath of a Death by Suicide

Managing the aftermath of a suicide in a school is similar to suicide intervention or prevention. There is danger of contagion with an adolescent suicide. The suicide of one teenager appears to remove some of the barriers for others. The suicide of a classmate may trigger emotions previously in check for another student. Students throughout the district may be affected. There are two specific factors to consider; grief and contagion.

Suicide of a classmate may be the first experience that a student has with death. Depending on the circumstances, students may feel varying degrees of sadness, guilt, anger, apathy, and bitterness. The guilt may be based on "things I could have said to stop him or things I should not have said." Another form of guilt is survivor guilt over just being alive. The anger may be directed toward the deceased for not reaching out, others who might have been able to help, or those who appear to be reacting insensitively. Expressions of emotions may be exhibited as somatic, loss of sleep and appetite, crying, listlessness, fatigue, laughing inappropriately, or apathy.

Not all students will react or experience loss in the same manner. The important fact to impart to students is that all reactions are normal. People cope in different ways. Helping students to explore their feelings in small groups will be beneficial. Explanation of the stages of grief is beneficial because it tells students what to expect. Students may have a more severe reaction if they have not resolved a previous loss.

Contagion is more likely with those individuals suffering a loss if there is also evidence of excessive guilt or depression. Identification of these students can be difficult. The students most at risk could have fewer interactions with others who would notice their response to the situation. Students and teachers could be asked to help identify (confidentially) students who do not appear to be managing the crisis well. Higher risk students could be seen in groups to help resolve their feelings. Students who appear to be at greater risk should be scheduled for individual counseling.

Mission Consolidated Independent School District Action Plan Following a Student Death

The school principal meets with all faculty and staff to inform them of the death and the planned response. (If a meeting is not possible, a detailed memorandum is given to all faculty and staff). Each teacher is given an announcement about the death to be read in class. (This announcement should not be made over the public address system).

At the faculty meeting, school counselor, Licensed Professional Counselor (or other mental health professional) will provide a list of suggestions for assisting distraught students and answer questions. The rooms where students can be sent for counseling are included in the list.

A counselor follows the deceased student's class schedule throughout the day to help students clarify feelings and concerns they may have about their classmate's death.

A designated individual removes personal effects of the deceased from classrooms and lockers and arranges these items to be given to the parents or guardian.

Near the end of the school day, the principal, using the public address system, calls for a moment of silence in memory of the deceased. The principal also gives information about the funeral arrangements. Students who need further assistance are encouraged to meet with the counselor.

Several days after the event, the crisis management task force meets to "debrief" and consider the effectiveness of the planned response.

Grief Processing and Stages of Grief

Mission Consolidated Independent School District Understanding Grief and Its Process

Everyone deals with grief differently. Some cry for days, hardly taking a moment to care for themselves. Others laugh, whether nervously, or because they manage pain with humor. Others feel numb, and wonder why they aren't crying or laughing like the others.

Each of these reactions is normal—there's no right way to grieve.

What is Grief?

Grief refers to the thoughts, feelings, and behaviors connected to the loss of something important. It could be the loss of a relationship, a loved one, a job, an object, or anything else a person values; However, when we talk about grief, it's usually in the context of bereavement.

Bereavement refers specifically to the period of mourning after the death of a loved one. In this guide we will be focusing on bereavement, but the information can pertain to other forms of grief, as well.

The Two Styles of Grief

The ways that people grieve can usually be categorized into two basic styles: instrumental and intuitive grief. In reality, these styles exist on a continuum. A person might lean toward one or the other, but no one experiences exclusively one style.

Instrumental Grief:

- Focus on the "thinking" part of grief
- Often involves problem-solving, such as making funeral arrangements
- Recurring thoughts about the circumstances of death: the how and why
- Less emotionally expressive about loss.

Intuitive Grief:

- · Focus on the "feeling" part of grief
- Strong emotional responses to loss, and more outward display of emotion
- More likely to seek emotional support

Mission Consolidated Independent School District Understanding Grief and Its Process

Five Stages of Grief (The Kübler-Ross Model)

Kübler-Ross model Denial, anger, bargaining, depression, and acceptance. These stages make up what is perhaps the most well-known model of grief.

- Denial: During the first stage, the reality of the loss is questioned. A person might believe there was some sort of mistake, such as a mixup, or an incorrect diagnosis.
- Anger: Those who are grieving may begin to cast blame, ask questions like "Why me?", or become angry with the deceased (e.g. "They were so selfish to take their own life!").
- Bargaining: The individual may attempt to bargain as a way to avoid the cause of grief. For example, after receiving a terminal diagnosis, they might plead: "I will eat healthier, I'll quit smoking, and I'll do everything right if I can just get better."
- Depression: During the fourth stage, the grieving enter a period of depression. They may lose motivation for living, isolate themselves, and enter mourning.
- Acceptance: The individual comes to accept the loss, although there may still be pain. During this stage there is a sense of calm, and a resumption of normal life activities.

Not everyone experiences every stage of the Kübler-Ross model, and the stages don't necessarily occur in order. Often times people will jump between stages, stay longer at one stage and/or may never reach the Acceptance stage.

SUICIDOLOGY AND COLUMBIA SUICIDE SERVERITY RATING SCALE (C-SSR-S)

Mission Consolidated Independent School District Suicidology and Its Terms

Suicidology is the study of suicide behavior, ideation and prevention. The National Institute of Mental Health defines Suicide as death caused by self-directed injurious behavior with intent to die as a result of the behavior. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, suicide is the tenth leading cause of death across the United States in 2017.

Suicide is the 11th leading cause of death in Texas and 2nd leading cause of death between the ages of 15 to 34 years old. Suicide is the third leading cause of death among adolescents, and gay teens are 4 times more likely than straight teens to attempt suicide. In Texas every two hours someone dies by suicide.

The effects of suicide go beyond the person who acts to take his or her life: it can have a lasting effect on family, friends, and communities. Suicide does not occur suddenly, impulsively, unpredictably or inevitably; it's the final step of a progressive failure of adaptation.

Research suggests that people who attempt suicide may react to events, think, and make decisions differently than those who do not attempt suicide. These differences happen more often if a person also has a disorder such as depression, substance abuse, anxiety, borderline personality disorder, and psychosis.

When adolescents struggle with mental illness and have high risk factors (struggle coping with daily teen stressors such as dealing with rejection, failure, breakups and family turmoil) may feel suicide is an answer. Additionally, might also be unable to see that they can turn their lives around — and that suicide is a permanent response, not a solution, to a temporary problem. (mayoclinic.org/healthy-lifestyle/tween-and-teen-health/in-depth/teen-suicide/art-20044308).

What is Suicide Communicating?

Suicide is a form of communication. It is saying something to someone. The task of intervention is to clearly identify the message and the target.

Suicide could be an expression of hopelessness, helplessness, anger, revenge, final cry for help, getting rid of a bad part, seeking punishment, avoiding punishment, manipulation, or psychotic process. How could the message be communicated in a less fatal manner?

Suicidology Terminology

Suicide Attempt involves a serious act such as:

- Taking fatal dose of medication, shooting self
- Someone intervening accidentally, without the accidental discovery, the individual would be dead.

Suicide Gesture

- o self-directed activity that can be unusual, but not fatal,
- o behavior as a cry for help or to get attention.

Suicide Gamble

o Person gambles their life that they will be found in time, will be saved by the discover.

Suicide Equivalent

involves a situation in which the person does not attempt suicide. Instead, he or she uses behavior to get some of the reactions that suicide would have caused

Suicidality

All suicide-related behaviors and thoughts

Nonsuicidal self-injurious behavior (NSIB)-

- Any self-inflicted destructive act
- Performed without intent to die
- Full intent of inflicting physical harm to oneself (viewed as distinct from suicidal behavior)

Parasuicidal Behavior

- Suicidal gestures or self-harming behaviors in the context of suicidal ideation
- o For the purpose of alerting others to their emotional pain
- o Not typically behaviors which could have led to death by suicide

It is extremely important that you consider your own affect toward the person and the fact that you may yourself be uncomfortable with the concept of suicide or with the process of asking someone if they are suicidal.

You should work to be neutral on the subject and not imply the person is "wrong" or "bad" or "stupid" for thinking about suicide.

In fact, it is important for you to work to understand what it is that has brought someone to thinking this way and that their psychic pain must be quite profound.

You don't want to legitimize their thinking of suicide as in "after hearing your story, I think I can see how you might be thinking of suicide."

Therefore, providing a neutral, non-emotive, but an empathetic and caring manner in asking about suicide is important.

If you are uncomfortable asking, but you suspect that someone is at risk, find a way to connect the person at risk with someone who is able to probe about risk and ask about suicide.

Mission Consolidated Independent School District Warning Signs or Signs of Vulnerability to Suicide

- Psychiatric Disorders
- Comorbid psychiatric disorders (e.g., disruptive disorders, substance abuse disorders combined)
- Availability of lethal, agents (e.g., firearms), exposure to negative events (e.g., physical or sexual abuse, violence

The C-SSRS measures ideation (severity, intensity), behavior and lethality.
The C-SSRS strong evidence-base supporting use, allows for common language.
Available in 100+ languages, multiple formats
Versions to assess lifetime/recent/since last visit
Used for research, and clinically
Flexible format, don't need to ask all the questions if not necessary

- > The questions contained in the CSSRS are suggested probes.
- Ultimately, the determination of the presence of suicidal ideation or behavior depends on the judgment of the individual administering the scale.
- Asking about suicide does not put the thought of killing themselves in someone's head, but gives them a sense of relief that someone is finally hearing them and will LISTEN and offer hope.

Mission Consolidated Independent School District Suicide Risk C-SSRS Screener Question Guide

The Columbia Suicide Severity Rating Scale (C-SSRS) is a measure used to identify and assess individuals at risk for suicide. Questions are phrased for use in an interview format, but can be completed as a self-report measure if necessary. The questions contained in the CSSRS are suggested probes. Ultimately, the determination of the presence of suicidal ideation or behavior depends on the judgment of the individual administering the scale.

Initiating Screening: First and Foremost, PRAISE CLIENT

- "Thank you for feeling comfortable with me..."
- "Thank you for trusting me in this moment, I appreciate that..."
- "Thank you for taking a chance on me today in sharing your thoughts..."
- "Thank you for giving me a chance, this must be challenging for you to discuss your feelings..."
- "Thank you for allowing me to be present...

Assess the Student: Possible Scenarios (Parent/Guardian) is needing to be contacted)

- If parent is present during the screening asks the parent/guardian to briefly "step out" while the screening is conducted.
- SCREENER "These are hard things... challenging things... difficult things to talk about..."
- School counselor may have initiated the probing at risk suicide questions, and may ask LPC for assistance.
 - If School Counselor collaborates with LPC, ask the student
 - "Do you mind if I bring in Mr./Ms. LPC ... I think she/he can help us today or I think she/he can help me help you ...is that okay?"

SCREENER with Socratic questions explore/investigate SYMPTOMS.

- Depression: "In the past few weeks, have you felt so sad or depressed that it makes it hard to do the things you would like to do?"
- Anxiety: "In the past few weeks, have you felt so worried that it makes it hard to do the things you would like to do or that you feel constantly agitated/on-edge?"
- Impulsivity/Recklessness: "Do you often act without thinking?"
- Hopelessness: "In the past few weeks, have you felt hopeless, like things would never get better?"
- Anhedonia: "In the past few weeks, have you felt like you couldn't enjoy the things that usually make you happy?"
- Isolation: "Have you been keeping to yourself more than usual?"
- Irritability: "In the past few weeks, have you been feeling more irritable or grouchier than usual?"
- Substance and alcohol use: "In the past few weeks, have you used drugs or alcohol?" If yes, ask: "What? How much?"
- Sleep pattern: "In the past few weeks, have you had trouble falling asleep or found yourself waking up in the middle of the night or earlier than usual in the morning?"

- Appetite: "In the past few weeks, have you noticed changes in your appetite? Have you been less hungry or more hungry than usual?"
- Other concerns: "Recently, have there been any concerning changes in how you are thinking or feeling?"

SCREENER with Socratic questions explore/investigate PAST BEHAVIOR.

Evaluate past self-injury and history of suicide attempts (method, estimated date, intent).

SCREENER:

- "Have you ever tried to hurt yourself?"
- "When was the last time you cut yourself?"
- "Have you ever hit yourself, like hit your head, slapped yourself when you have gotten angry, frustrated, annoyed or sad?"
- "Have you ever burned yourself, placed an ice cube on your skin, scratched yourself until you bleed?"
- "Have you ever tried to kill yourself?"
 - o If yes, ask: "How? When? Why?"
 - "Did you think [method] would kill you?"
 - "Did you receive medical/psychiatric treatment?"

SCREENER Assess intent:

- "Did you want to die?" (for youth, intent is as important as lethality of method) **
- o YES RESPONSE → follow through with Q3, Q4, Q5, Q6
- NO RESPONSE → identify stressors continue to de-escalate event

Note: Past suicidal behavior is the strongest risk factor for future attempts. **

SCREENER with Socratic questions explore/investigate STRESSORS

Family situation:

"Are there any conflicts at home that are hard to handle?"

School functioning:

"Do you ever feel so much pressure at school (academic or social) that you can't take it anymore?"

Mission Consolidated Independent School District Safety Plan

Throughout our lives many different situations may trigger stress and other negative emotional reactions. A safety plan can be used when I may be having a difficult time coping and may be thinking of harming myself or others. The plan can help to remind me about different ways to cope as well as better understand my warning signs in order to avoid a crisis situation. The plan can be shared with my parents, counselors, teachers, or friends who are supportive and can help in a time of need.

A lo largo de nuestras vidas muchas diferentes situaciones pueden desencadenar estrés y otras reacciones emocionales negativas. Un plan de seguridad se puede utilizar cuando estoy teniendo dificultades para sobrellevar y estoy pensando en dañarrme a mi mismo o a otros. El plan puede ayudarme a recordar diferentes maneras de hacer frente, así como comprender mejor mis señales de advertencia para evitar una situación de crisis. El plan se puede compartir con mis padres, consejeros, maestros o amigos que son solidarios y pueden ayudar en un momento de necesidad.

Mission Consolidated Independent School District Announcing a Death of a Student

The suicide of a student, particularly one, who was well known or popular, can produce campus wide trauma if the death occurs when school is in session. In announcing the death, it may be helpful to include information about the grieving process and sources of assistance.

The	school community is saddened by	the reported suicide of one of our students. The death of any	y member of a community is a los	s that in one way or another diminishes each of us, but the t	ragic circumstances of	's death is/are more difficult to accept. Feelings of anger, hu	urt, depression, and guilt are natura	ıl following a suicide. We may wonder what we could have do	ne to prevent this act of desperation	n. Although the feeling of guilt is natural, none of us can assu	me responsibility because the ultin	nate decision was not ours to make. There is, however, some	ething each of us can do to help. Y	ou as students can assist your friends and classmates. Wha	atever the problem may be you	r teachers, counselors, and administrators are here to help a	all students. If you or one of your frie	ends need to talk, let a teacher or counselor know. Both stude	nts and faculty can be alert for oth	ners who need help. Often, a friendly smile, an offer to have	lunch together, a word of encoura	agement, or just listening can make a difference. Whether we	realize it or not, we do need each o	other.

*Following the announcement, teachers may lead class discussions or send students to previously determined areas for counseling.

*Adapted from an announcement prepared in 1988 by Robert Enos, a high school principal in Austin, Texas, and was shared by Dr. Betty Phillips, the district's crisis coordinator.

Dear Parents,
Our Campus has experienced a great loss. One of our students in teacher's name class, student's name , passed away on Student's name has been a student at since and has been special to all of us. His/hers sweet personality made a friend to everyone and she/he will always be remembered. Because our school is like a family, we share happy and sad times together.
Today we spoke to the students who knew student's name , and adults were available to support them through this difficult time. Tomorrow a team of counselors from the school district will be assembled and available for your child if he/she needs to talk further with someone, and the team will be on call if further need develops.
If your child shares information with you regarding student's name death, please take time to talk with your child. It is important for our children to have their feelings acknowledged and to help them understand that it's okay to feel sad or cry. It is also okay if they don't feel anything right away. Sometimes it can take a wile for children to show their feelings, sometimes days or weeks, and that is normal. No matter when feelings surface, it is important to clear misconceptions and be honest.
Some helpful responses to distressed students are: - "I can see that you are hurting." - "It's very hard to accept the death of someone you know well." - "I knowit just seems unbelievable." - "It really hurts, doesn't it." - "It is especially hard when there are many unanswered questions."
Please remember student's name family at this difficult time. Please do not hesitate to send a note to school with your child or call the school if you feel your child needs to talk further with someone.
Information about private contributions in memory of student's name will be forthcoming.
Sincerely,
Principal

CHILD PROTECTIVE SERVICES

1-800-252-5400

https://www.txabusehotline.org

Call the Texas Abuse Hotline when the situation is urgent. Urgent means someone faces an immediate risk of abuse or neglect that could result in death or serious harm. Call the Texas Abuse Hotline at 1-800-252-5400 for situations including but not limited to:

- Serious injuries
- Any injury to a child 5 years or younger
- Immediate need for medical treatment (including suicidal thoughts)
- Sexual abuse where the abuser has or will have access to the victim within the next 24 hours
- Children age five and under are alone or are likely to be left alone within the next 24 hours
- Anytime you believe your situation requires action in less than 24 hours

IT'S YOUR DUTY

Responsibilities and Procedures for Reporting Suspected Child Abuse and Neglect

YOUR DUTY:

• All citizens have a duty to protect children and a legal responsibility to report suspected abuse and neglect to the proper authorities.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW:

- If you have cause to believe that a child has been or may be abused or neglected, you must immediately make a report to the proper authority.
- If you knowingly fail to make the required report you may be found guilty of a crime under the Texas Family Code. You may also be subject to sanctions by the State Board for Educator Certification, by the Commissioner of Education and/or disciplinary action by your Board of Trustees or Superintendent.

OTHER IMPORTANT FACTS:

- The law requires you to make a report to the proper authorities no later than the 48th hour after the hour you first suspect that a child has been or may be abused or neglected or is a victim of the offense of "Indecency with a Child" under the Penal Code.
- You may not delegate this responsibility to any other person or rely on another person to make the report.
- The identity of the person making the report is confidential and may be disclosed only by a Court order or to a law enforcement officer for the purposes of conducting a criminal investigation of the report see FFG (LEGAL).

DO THE FOLLOWING:

- Make a report within 48 hours of the time you first suspect that a child has been or may be abused or neglected or is a victim of Indecency with a Child to the proper authority.
- If the person suspected of abusing a child is a parent or guardian, the report must be made to the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services by calling the following telephone number: 1-800-252-5400. Report should also be made to TDPRS if the alleged or suspected abuse involves a person responsible for the care, custody, or welfare of the child (i.e., any school personnel or school volunteer).
- In a situation where the alleged or suspected abuse does not involve a person responsible for the care, custody, or welfare of the child, report may be made to any local or state law enforcement agency. An example of this type of situation where report to the police would be proper would be if a student is suspected of abusing another student.

- Secure the name of the intake worker and the Priority Number/Caller ID Number given to you when you make a report.
- Fill out the Alleged Child Abuse or Neglect Reporting Form (Form A) within two (2) days of the CPS report and either walk in or fax to the office of the Assistant Superintendent for HR & Student Services located at the Administration Office at 1201 Bryce Drive. The fax number is 323-5567.
- Follow the district's procedures for reporting suspected child abuse and neglect and maintain the Administrative Procedures Checklist for Alleged Child Abuse and Neglect.
- If a student makes an outcry of alleged abuse, he or she should be asked if he or she would like to see the school nurse or a campus administrator; however, this does not relieve you of your obligation to report to CPS within 48 hours.
- If the nurse and/or administrator assesses the student, he or she is also obligated to call CPS within 48 hours and document his or her findings on the Mission CISD Alleged Child Abuse Reporting Form (Form A).

INVESTIGATIONS BY LAWFUL AUTHORITIES

The rule of thumb is to cooperate with all lawful authorities when an investigation is conducted.

The Child Protective Services Investigator or Local Law Enforcement Agencies may conduct an interview with the student and alleged perpetrator at school as per FFG (LEGAL). FORMS ARE PROVIDED TO DOCUMENT LAWFUL AUTHORITY REQUESTS. In such instances, the following investigation procedures shall be followed in accordance with Board Policy GRA Local:

- The investigator will make his/her presence known to the Principal (designee) or the Principal's supervisor if the school Principal is the alleged perpetrator.
- A private, non-threatening place to interview the student shall be provided to the investigator. (Counselor or nurse's office preferably) . . . Principal or Asst. Principal's office is not recommended.
- A school official may not require the presence of a parent or school administrator during an interview by an investigator.
- The investigator may allow a third party to attend the interview when the student has already told the third party about the alleged abuse or neglect and the investigator believes the third party's presence may make the student more comfortable or if the student asks for the third party to attend.

- The Principal (designee) should secure the case number (priority number) from the investigator before he/she leaves the campus as applicable.
- The Principal (designee) fills out the Questioning of Student Form (Form B).

FERPA APPLIES:

- The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) generally applies to student records, even during an investigation of suspected child abuse or neglect. Accordingly, student records (except for directory information) may not be released unless there is a valid subpoena, Court Order or release by the student's parent or other person in lawful authority. The School District is required under Federal Law to make a reasonable effort to notify the parent in advance of compliance with a subpoena.
- If an investigator conducting a child abuse investigation under the requirements of the Family Code makes a request for a student record, the request shall be in writing and state that the investigator is conducting a child abuse investigation required by the Texas Family Code and that the requested record is requested in accordance with Section 552.114 (b) (3) of the Texas Government Code. The investigator is to fill out the Making Information Available In a Child Abuse Investigation Form (Form C). The Principal (designee) is to fill out the bottom portion of Form C.
- If an investigator demands the release of student records without a proper written request, subpoena, Court Order, or parental release, you should contact a supervisor for advice from the School District's attorney.

REMOVAL OF STUDENT FROM SCHOOL PROPERTY

- Before a student at school is arrested or taken into custody by a law enforcement officer or other legally authorized person, the principal shall verify the official's identity.
- To the best of his or her ability, the principal (designee) shall verify the official's authority to take custody of the student [see GRA], and then shall deliver over the student. The Principal (designee) is to have the officer fill out the Taking Student into Custody Form (Form D. The Principal (designee) is to fill out the bottom portion of the form.
- In the event that a legally authorized person is requesting to take possession of a child without a written court order, the Principal (designee) is to have the individual fill out the Taking Possession of a Student While at School in an Emergency without a Written Court Order Form (Form E). The Principal (designee) shall fill out the bottom portion of this form.

• The principal shall immediately notify the Superintendent and ordinarily shall notify the parent or other person having lawful control of the student. If the officer or other authorized person raises what the principal considers to be a valid objection to notifying the parents at that time, the principal shall not notify the parents.

IMMUNITIES UNDER SECTION 261.106, TEXAS FAMILY CODE

- A person acting in good faith who reports or assists in the investigation of a report of alleged child abuse or neglect or who testifies or otherwise participates in a judicial proceeding arising from a report, petition, or investigation of alleged child abuse or neglect is immune from civil or criminal liability that might otherwise be incurred or imposed.
- A person who reports the person's own abuse or neglect of a child or who acts in bad faith or with malicious purpose in reporting alleged child abuse or neglect is not immune from civil or criminal liability.

Notice of Employee Responsibilities for Reporting Child Abuse and Neglect

What are the District's policies addressing child abuse or neglect and my responsibilities for reporting suspected child abuse or neglect?

The applicable District policies—FFG(LEGAL) and (LOCAL), GRA(LEGAL) and (LOCAL), and DH(LOCAL) and (EXHIBIT)—are enclosed in this packet. This distribution is required by state law. At regular intervals, these policies will be addressed in staff development as well. If you have any questions about these policies, please contact directors for staffing at (956) 323-5641.

What are my legal responsibilities for reporting if I suspect that a child has been or may be abused or neglected?

Anyone who suspects that a child has been or may be abused or neglected has a legal responsibility, under state law, for reporting the suspected abuse or neglect to law enforcement or to Child Protective Services (CPS).

Any District employee, agent, or contractor has an additional legal obligation to submit the oral or written report within 48 hours of learning of the facts giving rise to the suspicion.

An employee will make a report if the employee has cause to believe that an adult was a victim of abuse or neglect as a child and the employee determines in good faith that disclosure of the information is necessary to protect the health and safety of another child or an elderly or disabled person.

Are there any restrictions on reporting?

Under state law, an employee is prohibited from using or threatening to use a parent's refusal to consent to administration of a psychotropic drug or to any other psychiatric or psychological testing or treatment of a child as the sole basis for making a report of neglect, unless the employee has cause to believe that the refusal:

Presents a substantial risk of death, disfigurement, or bodily injury to the child; or

Has resulted in an observable and material impairment to the growth, development, or functioning of the child.

To whom do I make a report?

Reports may be made to any of the following:

A law enforcement agency: The Mission Police Department, at (956) 584-5000;

The CPS division of the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services at (800) 252-5400 or Texas Abuse Hotline Websiteⁱ; or

If applicable, the state agency operating, licensing, certifying, or registering the facility in which the suspected abuse or neglect occurred.

However, if the suspected abuse or neglect involves a person responsible for the care, custody, or welfare of the child, the report must be made to CPS, unless the report is to the state agency that operates, licenses, certifies, or registers the facility where the suspected abuse or neglect took place; or the report is to the Texas Juvenile Justice Department as a report of suspected abuse or neglect in a juvenile justice program or facility.

Reporting your suspicion to a school counselor, a principal, or another school staff member does NOT fulfill your responsibilities under the law. Furthermore, the District cannot require you to report your suspicion first to a school administrator.

Will my report be kept confidential?

State law requires that the identity of a person making a report of suspected child abuse or neglect be kept confidential.

Will I be liable in any way for making a report?

A person who in good faith reports or assists in the investigation of a report of child abuse or neglect is immune from civil or criminal liability.

What will happen if I don't report suspected child abuse or neglect?

By failing to report a suspicion of child abuse or neglect:

You may be placing a child at risk of continued abuse or neglect;

You are violating the law and may be subject to legal penalties, including criminal sanctions;

You are violating Board policy and may be subject to disciplinary action, including possible termination of your employment; and

Your certification from the State Board for Educator Certification may be suspended, revoked, or canceled.

What are my responsibilities regarding investigations of abuse or neglect?

State law specifically prohibits school officials from:

Denying an investigator's request to interview a child at school in connection with an investigation of child abuse or neglect; or Requiring that a parent or school employee be present during the interview.

School personnel must cooperate fully and may not interfere with an investigation of reported child abuse or neglect.

Improper Conduct

If the investigation reveals improper conduct that was neither "prohibited conduct" nor "bullying," the District may nonetheless take appropriate disciplinary action consistent with the Student Code of Conduct or other corrective action to address the conduct.

Confidentiality

To the extent possible, the District shall endeavor to protect the privacy of the complainant, persons against whom a complaint is filed, and witnesses. However, limited disclosures may be necessary in order to conduct a thorough investigation and comply with applicable law.

What do I tell my kids about the Coronavirus?

The importance of good communication

Talking to Children and Teens is Necessary

Whether you realize it or not, your children and teenagers are taking in a lot of information about this new virus. Unlike adults, they do not have the ability to sift through the information and determine what is correct and what is incorrect to develop an appropriate course of action. They are relying on you to do this for them.

The top 5 things to discuss with your kids about COVID-19

What is it?

Kids can clearly see this situation is making adults worry and because of this it can be very scary to them. A parent should adjust the amount and type of information they give to their child based on the child's age level.

The fear of the unknown can be greater than the known. Let kids know that yes, this is a problem right now but there are many adults working together to make everyone safe.

Reassure them:

Follow the Guidelines:

COVID-19 is spread through contact with someone who is infected. Remind your child to wash their hands properly on a regular basis and not to touch their face or mouth area. If they cough due it in the crook of their arm.

Monitor Media Information:

Our televisions, radios and social media feeds are being inundated with information about this virus. Hearing other talk repeatedly about this scary topic can be overwhelming for kids. Adult supervision is necessary.

Leave the Lines of Communication OPEN:

Due to the situation, parents should check in on their kids often. Let them know you are available if they have any new questions or just want to talk about this topic. And remember they are looking to you to be a role model during this challenging time.
